The number of competitors was six, three young ladies and three young gentlemen. A very large crowd assembled to witness the exciting contest. After all were through, the awarding committee retired and after a consultation returned declaring Miss Eva [illegible] Wilson entitled to the gold medal and Miss [illegible] Chamberlin the silver one. They all did nobly. In fact I cannot refer to a term in the history of the University when there was a superior rendition of pieces.

The piece in which Miss Wilson excelled was entitled "The Red Jacket," representing a great conflagration, and as presented the scene was sad enough. The dashing bravery of a fireman in his attempt to save the life of a little child, together with the mad despairing cries of the mother, were represented so perfectly that but few if any in the large audience were not moved to tears.

The selection made by Miss Chamberlin was "The Soldier's Reprieve," a piece full of pathos and melting tenderness. The awarding of prizes to the successful competitors was made by the Rev W R Stewart, who in the impromptu address accompanying the presentation stated that he was in favor of women enjoying their rights, the rewards of excellence when such excellence was attained. Letter from Judge Davis

[illegible] June 2[illegible] — The following letter has been sent by Judge Davis to the President of the Columbus Convention, declining the nomination: [illegible] June [illegible]

Dear Sir: The National Convention of Labor Reformers [illegible] February 22 last [illegible] me with a nomination as their candidate for President. Having regarded that movement as the initiation of a policy calculated to [illegible] the various political elements in a compact opposition, I consented to allow the use of my name previous to the Cincinnati Convention. There a distinguished citizen of New York was nominated. Under these circumstances I deem it proper to retire absolutely from the Presidential contest, and thus leave the friends who were generous enough to affirm their voluntary support free to obey their convictions of duty unfettered by any supposed obligation. Sympathizing earnestly with all just and proper measures by which the condition of labor may be elevated and improved, I am, with great respect, your fellow citizen

The Great Treaty—British Parliament.

LONDON, June 2[illegible] — Soon after the meeting of the House Granville rose and returned thanks to the Lords for their uniform disposition to leave the Government unembarrassed during the negotiations relative to indirect claims between the English and American Governments. He then stated that he had just received a telegram from Geneva, wherein he was informed that the Tribunal of Arbitration no longer desired secrecy during its deliberations. The Board of Arbitration under the Treaty of Washington met at Geneva on the 15th instant. The agent of the United States presented a printed argument referring to points where his Government claimed relief. The English agent presented no argument, but made a statement that whereas differences still existed between the two Governments, England asked for an adjournment of the Board. The agent of the United States was unable to assent, and the Tribunal adjourned until the 17th and again until the 19th—the second time because the American representatives were still without instructions. At the meeting of the 19th the Arbitrators made a statement on the questions at issue between the two Governments, carefully guarding themselves. The purport of their statements was that after a careful perusal of everything said by the representatives of the United States touching indirect claims, the Arbitrators have individually and collectively concluded ... for indirect claims ... principles of international law ... good foundation for an award of damages between nations, and should be wholly excluded from consideration, and would have been even if no disagreement had arisen as to the competency of the Tribunal ... therein. The Arbitrators informed the agents of both Governments of their decision. They asked Lord Tenterden what observation he had to make. He replied None. A similar question having been put to Davis, the American agent, he said he had no reply to make ... asked for an adjournment. An adjournment until the 27th was then agreed to ... but the American ... he expected ... and the ... was informed on Tuesday that the United States ... the indirect claims ... the Tribunal ... be excluded ... At ... Granville ... Lord Tenterden then asked for an adjournment for the day to allow him to ... from London. At ... England ... the withdrawal of the indirect claims ... argument and ... details of business before the Tribunal are now proceeding. Lord Granville ... hearty cheering ... that the relations of the two ... would be ... strengthened by the Treaty of Washington.

In the House of Commons ... Gladstone ... I am ... say ... England and America ... claims has ended. The ... interrupted by cheers ... was loud and ...

From Geneva.

GENEVA, June 2[illegible] — The Tribunal reassembled at the Hotel de Ville this morning and remained in session until 2 o'clock. A communication was made at the close of the sitting and secrecy was agreed to be preserved for another twenty four hours. The Tribunal adjourned until to morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Many decisive and favorable communications are expected. The Arbitrators who were stopping at the hotels have left them and gone to private apartments. The English representative has a voluminous collection of papers. On quitting the council room the Arbitrators appeared in excellent humor and were joking among themselves. During the session of the Tribunal the telegraph was in requisition almost continually.

From London.

LONDON, June 28 — The statement of Earl Granville to Mr Gladstone in Parliament last night announcing the decision of the Geneva Tribunal of Arbitration on indirect claims forms the subject for leading editorial articles in the morning journals.

The Times says the decision of Tribunal is eminently satisfactory to all Englishmen and Americans, and ought to be gratifying to arbitrators who have proved themselves true benefactors to both England and America. The man who rescued America from discredit is Charles Francis Adams.

From Geneva.

NEW YORK, June 28 — A Geneva dispatch says that the meeting yesterday was the most important yet held by the Tribunal. The presentation of the British argument placed that government fairly in court. Claims for indirect damages are being ruled out, and everything is definitely shaped, and as the arbitration goes on both sides are content with the result.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28 — The steamer Colorado, which arrived at Hong Kong on the 17th inst, sailed yesterday for San Francisco with a cargo of new teas.

The weather this evening is cool, windy and foggy.

The Board of health appointed twelve well known physicians to vaccinate the children and adults throughout the city free of charge.

McLane, a sailor on the schooner Echo, in attempting to move the hatch lost his footing and fell into the hold, receiving injuries from which he died last night.

Michael Cussick, who was so frightfully injured by gas explosion last night, is still living, but is in a very precarious condition, and not expected to recover.

Among the arrivals to day is the bark Rhuddlan Castle from Newcastle, England, with 5,350 old railroad rails, which will be re rolled in the mills here.

The demand for oak casks to hold the incoming vintage, is far beyond the supply of redwood casks, which have been superior when properly made, are being manufactured in large quantities for the purpose.

Total stock sales to day only aggregate 9 315 shares. The advance in Gould and Curry is the main feature of the market. All sorts of rumors are on foot as the cause.

Exchequer Mining Co have levied an assessment of $3 a share.

UTAH

SALT LAKE, June 28 — Obey, who killed Dason, was to day, after examination before Judge Clinton, held to answer. His bail, $2,000, was speedily furnished, and he was released from custody.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28 — James Cussick, the laborer for the City Gas Co, who was fearfully burned by the ignition of gas escaping from a pipe which they broke at the corner of Mission and Third streets last night, is still living. There is no hope of his recovery. He was literally enveloped in a sheet of flames for some seconds before the horrified bystanders could extricate him. He is blind, and in any event will be terribly disfigured for life.

The Mammoth Mining Company, White Pine, has at last levied an assessment of 10 cents per share.

Stocks opened weak this morning, though there are some exceptions. Imperial advanced a trifle, and Hahn & Hunt advanced a dollar in open board.

The advance of the Atlantic fleet, long delayed, has arrived. The first in is the bark Jean Pierre of Bordeaux, with merchandise to A. E. Sabatie & Co.

The schooner S. H. Merrill, which has been on a particularly successful trip in search of fur seals to the Straits of Magdalen, also arrived this morning with furs etc to Miller & Bard; bark Chile [illegible] from Valparaiso with merchandise to Cross & Co.

Weather cool and windy. No new cases of the small pox reported.

To arrive overland this evening — Jas Brown, Silverton; Dan Holton and Mrs L C Brigham and child, Portland.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28 — A Chinaman went into a house on Mission street this evening to deliver clothing, saw a diamond ring within his reach, reached it, and is now in custody.

A fire this afternoon did some damage to a brick building on the north side of Sacramento street above Kearney. It was occupied by Chinese merchants. It was caused by fire crackers. There is already an almost continuous discharge of fireworks day and evening, in anticipation of the coming Fourth, and fires are expected to be of every day occurrence.

Owing to the limited amount of subscriptions available, the Grand Marshal and Committees will cut off many of the usual expenses of celebration. The Division Marshals and all aids will foot their own bills instead of being furnished with regalia from the common fund as heretofore.

The funeral of the late J. S. Mitchell, the stock broker who committed suicide near Oakland, takes place from the First Unitarian Church to morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Michael Cussick, who was burned by the gas explosion last night, died this evening, having suffered terribly from the moment of the explosion until death relieved him. He leaves a family.

A couple of thieves boarded the steamer Alice at Oregon City on last Wednesday, drove the watchman away with a pistol, and then ransacked the boat for valuables.

Olney Fry, Esq, of Linn county, recently bought a fine Cotswold buck two years old, which sheared 22 pounds of wool. Many such sheep would make a man rich.

Some of the defeated Democratic candidates in Clackamas county have begun to make a false show of contesting the election. They will likely not carry it out. They dare not.

Mr D W Belding, who went from Linn county back to Minnesota about a year ago, has become disgusted with that country and is on his way back to Oregon with his family.

The Register says that in Linn county fall wheat very generally looks well and gives promise of an abundant yield. Spring wheat, on the contrary, will not as a general thing, make an average crop, and unless we have a bountiful rain within a few days many fields will not be worth cutting.

A well known attorney, says the West Side, who has retired from active life to a splendid farm in this county, says that he has one field in which wild roses grow abundantly, and that he had a flock of sheep turned in there. When shearing time came he "did not know whether to shear the sheep or the rose bushes to get the most wool!"

At a regular meeting of Chemeketa Lodge No. 1, I O O F, held at their hall in Salem on Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: A B Crossman, N G; E K Miller, V G; J Henry Brown, R S; J J Murphy, P S; C S Woodworth, Treasurer; Trustees J J Murphy, J G Wright and R H Prine.

The Statesman says: The companies having in charge the work of prospecting in the Lookout Mountain mines situated on the Santiam river, report excellent success. They have opened a tunnel to the depth of 50 feet, and have found fine prospects. They have also cut into some new veins which promise an abundant yield, and they will probably begin taking out the ore some time next week.

Mr S G Reed has thirty one acres of winter wheat on his Hillsboro farm, in Washington county, which is thought to be the best in the county. A close contest exists between his and a like number of acres belonging to Mr John Shute, living three miles west of Hillsboro. Mr Reed's wheat measures five feet on an average, the heads large and well filled. Mr Shute's field will average four and a half feet, with heads apparently as good. Both lots are entirely free from smut and weeds. The wheat should be well harvested, as one or the other will get a premium at the next county fair. Farmers estimate that the yield will be 40 bushels to the acre.

The Boston Jubilee

For a fortnight we have been receiving accounts by telegraph of the World's Peace Jubilee at Boston. This great Jubilee is mainly the work of one man, Gilmore, its projector and manager, has recently achieved a wonderful success for his enterprise. The courage, tact and confidence necessary for such an achievement are rarely united in one man. Immense throngs of people daily visit the Coliseum to hear the world's great singers, composers and performers. Among those present and participating are Madame Peschka Leutner, the greatest living Soprano; Madame Arabella Goddard, famous throughout the musical world as the queen of pianists; Johann Strauss, the eminent composer and conductor; Franz Abt, also composer and conductor, Madame Erminia Rudersdorff, the celebrated London Soprano, and Herr Franz Bendell, the great German pianist. In martial music there are present the widely celebrated band of the British Grenadier Guards, the best band in the German army, known as "Kaiser Franz Grenadier Regiment Band," the celebrated "Garde Republicaine Band" of Paris, the Irish National Band, and the famous "Marine Band" of Washington, to which should be added the Emperor William's "Imperial Household Cornet Quartette."

The Jubilee is having a run of eighteen days, and will close on the Fourth of July. There are more than two thousand musical instruments in use at the Jubilee, and the chorus of twenty thousand voices makes such a hagara of song as was never heard before. On the Fourth of July the national airs of all countries will be sung, and all these voices with the accompanying instruments will unite. A simultaneous ringing of all the bells of the city, with firing by infantry and artillery, including salutes from the forts, from the navy yard and from vessels in the harbor, will close the day and Jubilee. Season tickets, made transferable, admitting to all the concerts, and with reserved seats, were sold for fifty dollars. Single admission during the first week was five dollars, and after that a different rate.

A Discerning Critic.

Readers of the Herald are involved in deep perplexity by the lucubrations of that journal on railroads. In one of these studied essays the editor informs his readers that the principal cause of hard times and scarcity of money here grows out of the fact that a vast sum, say half a million dollars, is sent abroad every six months to pay interest on railroad bonds. "This sum," says that paper, "abstracted every six months from our business, is a terrible drain. And the worst of it is that the mismanagement of the business was such that the principal brought into the State in the first place bears no proportion to this terrible drain for interest." A little further on, in the same article, we read that the "railroads constructed with this borrowed money do not pay running expenses." Of course, then, the President is obliged to bring money from abroad to pay the running expenses. And besides, since the income of the roads is not equal to the expense of operating them, the interest must come from other sources, and no part of it is drawn from this State. The Herald has repeatedly told us that the President was paying interest out of the borrowed principal. These are the "intelligent" and "honest" discussions of railroad matters for which that paper informs us that it is receiving such unexampled popular commendation and support. "Bro. Ike" should apply for a patent on his marvelous intellectual processes. He can get it, for he has this whole field to himself.

A. M. Witham, Senator.

A number of Democratic papers manifest alarm lest A. M. Witham, of Benton county may be re-admitted to the seat in the State Senate from which he was illegally ejected two years ago. It will be remembered that Mr. Witham was ousted to make room for Mr. Strahan. Democratic solicitude on the subject now arises from the fact that the two parties are very nearly balanced in the Senate, and they want to keep Strahan in. The Statesman has these remarks on the subject:

There is not a man alive who believes that Mr. Strahan belongs in that seat by right of election by the people. Mr. Witham was turned out and Mr. Strahan was put in, because the Democratic ring of corruptionists had a series of jobs to put through. For these, Mr. Witham's vote could not be had; Mr. Strahan's could. Nobody knows better than the committee who had the pretended investigation of the "contest" in charge, how utterly the genuine evidence in the case was disregarded in making up their report to the Senate; and nobody knows better than the Senators who voted to oust Witham, what immensity of corruption and outrage there was in the act. Mr. Witham was fairly elected; the seat belongs to him; it will be right for the Senate to give it to him, and we say it will be recreant to one of its highest duties, if it does not do it.

According to the Herald the State is being drained of money to pay interest on railroad bonds. Hence hard times. According to the same paper the railroads don't pay even running expenses. Hence they must fail. Now if they don't pay running expenses, money must be brought into the State to run them. And if they don't even pay running expenses of course they "drain" no money away from the State to pay interest on the bonds. The interest must be paid from some source outside of the State. The Herald is involving itself daily in absurdities like this, yet it doesn't seem to know it, and with stupid and innocent egotism it boasts of its acumen and sagacity.

The Era, Albany Democrat, Plaindealer, Times and Enterprise, have come out squarely against Greeley. The rest of the Democratic papers have not expressed themselves on this question.

This statement is from one of the papers mentioned in the list, viz: the Oregon City Enterprise. Thus half the Democratic press of Oregon is against the candidate who will be nominated at Baltimore.

Gov. Grover, it is said, now heartily wishes that he had not conspired with the Legislative plunderers at the last session to force so many odious and corrupt schemes upon the people. He thought that by this course he could get the help of the Ring in his aspirations for the United States Senate. But the people couldn't see it. The schemes that made Grover with the Ring made him weak with them.

A Democrat writes to the Oregon City Enterprise that he and his fellow "bedrockers" will not support Greeley and Brown. He [illegible] Horace Greeley and the Hog-market [illegible]n are very liberal. They ask us to [illegible] them to seal the final doom of De[illegible] Their impudence is only equalled [illegible] Democrats who ask us to [illegible] and Brown."

A Reply to Sumner

Senator Sumner in a four hours' speech in the Senate of the United States arraigned General Grant for many political offences. The following brief extract from the speech of Gov. Booth of California at the Grant ratification in San Francisco is a complete answer to all the charges made. It is so concisely and elegantly done that it will bear reproducing.

No man in public life has ever been subjected to closer scrutiny or more unsparing criticism than General Grant. He has been attacked with every device of oratory, from Ciceronian periods, Greek epigrams and learned display, down to the enumeration of his horses and cigars, with the coarsest vituperation. Proverbially the most silent of public men, he is charged with being quarrelsome. Avowing no policy but the public will, he is charged with Cæsarism. The first President to recognize the political and civil equality of all citizens, he is charged with a supercilious unfriendliness to the African race. Earnestly urging the measures necessary to reform the Civil Service, he is charged with obstructing it. So moderate in the use of extraordinary powers as to make us forget he possesses them, he is charged with tyranny. His own and his wife's relatives canvassed to forty-second cousins, and their cousins in the fifth degree, and because thirteen of them are said to be found in the blue-book of thirty thousand names, from the list of tide-waiters up he is compared to Alexander and the Borgias. Reducing the army to a minimum, he is charged with subverting civil by military rule. Presiding over a nation which he so lately signally helped to redeem from the horrors of a civil war, now marvelously peaceful and prosperous, he is charged with being the Anarch of Discord and Prince of Confusion. These charges are made with all the pomp of Sumner's declamation and his wealth of scholarly illustrations, but they pass him by as the wind. "Confidence is a plant of slow growth," but when its roots have taken fast hold upon the popular esteem it is not to be shaken by a tornado of Ciceronian eloquence, and if the votes of the masses of the Republican party could be polled without reference to the action of any convention, four-fifths would be cast for Grant as a leader, and a majority of the other fifth would not agree upon any one. There is this additional fact,—that the success of the Greeley movement is the rehabilitation of the Democratic party.

Congressional Legislation for the Pacific Slope.

The following are included in the Acts passed by the last session of Congress, having special reference to the States and Territories recognized as belonging to the Pacific Slope:

An Act to continue in force a grant to the State of Nevada for college purposes.

An Act granting the right of way through the public lands of the United States, for the construction of a railroad from Great Salt Lake to Portland, Oregon.

An Act supplementary to an Act entitled "An Act to incorporate the Texas Pacific Railway Company and to aid in the construction of its road and for other purposes," approved March 3, 1871.

An Act for the relief of J. Ross Browne, Late Minister to China.

An Act granting right of way to the Uath, Idaho, and Montana Railroad Company.

An Act to provide for the sale of the Marine Hospital and grounds at San Francisco.

An Act relating to a site for public buildings at Harrisburg, Pa., and Sacramento, Cal.

An Act to reimburse the State of Nevada for expenses incurred while a Territory in purchase of a prison and in support of United States Courts.

A widow of an officer who served under John Paul Jones on the Bon Homme Richard received an appropriation from Congress just before the close of the late session for back pay due her deceased husband. The amount was $8,000. She has been hanging around the Capital for years to get it. When the act passed she was observed to drop upon her knees in the gallery of the House and utter a prayer of thankfulness, while tears streamed down her furrowed cheeks. She is over seventy years of age.

POLITICAL NEWS.

A Boston dispatch of the 22d gives the following account of a Grant-Wilson ratification in that city:

A Grant-Wilson ratification meeting was held under the auspices of the Grant Central Club in Faneuil Hall this evening. Alexander H. Rice presided. Governors Geary, of Pennsylvania, and Harvey, of Kansas, Judge Hoar, and Generals Woodford and Butler, were on the platform. In his opening speech Rice said that if Grant had not been nominated by the Republicans the people would have nominated and elected him. He paid a high compliment to Grant and Wilson, and introduced Judge Hoar, who lauded the candidates for their well-earned distinction in war and politics, and expressed regret at the course of his friend Sumner, and hoped that he would soon realize his false position. He said that while he (Hoar) was in the Cabinet the President never allowed any personal consideration to weigh in matters pertaining to the public good. Governor Harvey, of Kansas, said that Kansas would give Grant 20,000 majority. Governor Geary pledged Pennsylvania for 30,000 majority. General Butler made a characteristic speech, and declared that this was only a continuation of the campaign begun in 1861 by the old Democratic party. He said Greeley's success depended upon his nomination at Baltimore, which he would not get; that the Angel Gabriel couldn't be elected on such a ticket. He denounced the course of Sumner, and predicted the certain success of Grant and Wilson.

An immense Grant-Wilson ratification meeting was held in Lucas Place to-night. Five thousand people were present. Senator Carpenter and ex-Senator Henderson were the principal speakers. Great enthusiasm was manifested.

The Evening Post says editorially of the Free Traders' Presidential ticket: "There is not much reason for believing that the next President of the United States will be Groesbeck; but whatever others may do, we are not disposed to throw any ridicule on a movement so sincere and direct as this."

Frederick Law Olmsted publishes a card stating that his name was used without his knowledge, and expressing regret that the Conference should have thought it expedient to take up as a representative of their requirements one so completely separated from the political world and absorbed in professional duties as he.

In the Wyoming Legislature a short time ago, when a man insisted that he was not out of order, his opponent jerked off his coat, shouting "Mr. Speaker, if some reliable man will hold these duds, I'll teach him that he is out of order," and the point was sustained without further controversy.

On Saturday morning last, at Seabeck, while receiving hay on board the steamer Colfax, a heavy bale of it fell from the grappling upon Mr. Henry McQuillan, mate of the Colfax, and dislocated the thigh bone at the hip joint.

THE TERRITORIES.

Salt Lake City has street cars.

A Montana man was killed by lightning last week.

A new Utah mine assays $21,000 per ton. Whew! give us some of that.

The Montana Democratic Territorial Convention will be held in Deer Lodge City, July 1st.

A Montana woman told the Assessor she was "a widow to the best of her knowledge and belief."

Utah Indians are engaged in the innocent pastime of murdering white men and stealing horses.

On Saturday last, on board the ship J. H. Bell, at Utsalady, John Williams, mate of the ship, was struck by a spar, which caused a fracture of the thigh bone.

Jo. Galutin has received his commission as Postmaster at Oro Grand, Idaho. The salary is $000,012 00 a year and consequently he supports Grant and Wilson quite earnestly.

Those best acquainted with the topography of the Colorado desert, are confident that a large subterranean stream runs under it, and that the entire desert may be reclaimed by artesian wells.

The Alida has ceased to carry the mail to or from Seattle. For the service neither pay nor thanks were received, detention and inconvenience were experienced, and its discontinuance was finally adopted as a matter of relief.

The Salt Lake Tribune records the arrival at Ogden of Dr. Hayden, with a party of surveyors, scientists and photographers, who are to include in their labors on the plain a geographical survey of the Yellowstone canyon region, where Congress has reserved 3,000 acres as a National Park.

A resident at the Snoqualmie Falls says the bottom lands along the stream are fast settling up, more than forty actual settlers having located on them within the last year. Besides these a large number of others have taken up claims with the intention of occupying them at an early day. He also reports that an immigrant named Allen, just from New Jersey, intends to erect a saw mill on Dugald's creek, about two miles below the falls.

Some two weeks ago, Captain Penfield, Mr. Myers, and one or two others, started from Seattle for an exploration of the Skagit river and its valley. They returned after an absence of about ten days, and report that the river for some forty miles above the jam is a magnificent stream, free from all obstruction to navigation, broad and deep, and sweeping grandly and smoothly onward towards the Sound, amid the silence of continuous woods. The valley is from five to ten miles in width, covered with a dense growth of cottonwood, ash, alder, and vine maple.

Remarkable Cure of Mr. Abram Tully.

San Jose, August 2, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOBLEY & CO.—Some two years since I was taken down with Inflammatory Rheumatism, and was for some time treated by two physicians, but got no better. I tried nearly every remedy I heard of, but nothing seemed to do me any good, until about two weeks ago I was advised by Judge J. Johnson to try your UNK WEED REMEDY. I procured one bottle and was entirely cured. For six weeks before taking the UNK I was compelled to go upon crutches. I consider your remedy a great blessing to suffering humanity, and shall deem it my duty to inform all Rheumatics of its great virtues. Yours, etc.,

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 29, 1872

CITY.

A Welcome Shower.—On Thursday night, about 12 o'clock, a most grateful and refreshing shower began to fall. It continued through the night and a greater portion of yesterday. To calculate exactly in dollars and cents, the value of this most timely rain to the farming interests, would be a difficult task. The benefits secured to the crops will not fall short of several hundred thousand dollars at the lowest estimate. It comes too late to revive spring sown wheat, which in many sections is a total failure, or has suffered so severely from the drouth, that it will not be harvested, except by the hogs. Oats will be also short from the same cause. The late spring prevented early plowing in lowlands, and late sowing followed. Fall sown wheat will receive more benefit from the present rain than any other cereals. If the rain—this is only a suggestion which the weather clerk might have improved—had fallen three weeks ago, its reviving effects would have been much more apparent. It cannot cause the spring crops to renew growing, or the fall sown crop either, for that matter, but in the case of the latter, the kernels of grain have scarcely commenced to form yet. The effect of the shower then, can only reach the forming and maturing process of the grains, and will contribute very materially toward the size of the wheat head and plumpness of the grain.

The beneficial effects of the rain will not be confined to cereals alone. Fruits of all kinds, and garden vegetables had commenced several weeks ago to manifest the pressing need of moisture. Without the timely and grateful shower which has visited Webfoot, meagre crops would have resulted. Vegetables have had to contend, in their growth, against the drought only, but the fruit crops, in addition to want of grain, have sustained considerable injury from the devouring caterpillars, which have infested different sections of the country, and greatly impaired the prospects. These scourges of vegetation have about disappeared within the last few weeks, and it is hoped that the late rain will to some extent repair the injuries consequent on their appearance.

The Horticultural Fair.—There was one fact transpired at the Horticultural Fair, held in this city last week, which must be peculiarly gratifying to the fruit-growers of Oregon. At the Horticultural Fair of 1871, Mr. A. G. Walling, of the Oswego Nursery, presented for premium and exhibition, a very handsome large black, rich and sweet cherry—in size fully equal if not larger than the Royal Ann, grown by himself. It took the first premium as the best seedling cherry. At the last fair a large quantity of the same variety of cherry was presented for premium. Most of the old standard varieties, then ripe, were also on exhibition. Among these were the Royal Ann, the Black Tartarian, Gov. Wood, Knight's Early Black, and many others of perhaps less note. A very respectable and judicious committee examined the cherries and decided that the first premium justly belonged to the cherry exhibited by Mr. Walling; and when it is considered that this cherry had successfully competed with all the old standard varieties present, the excellence and value of the new variety will be understood. Mr. Walling has given the name of Maj. Francis to this new cherry. The Lewelling (or Black Republican) cherry was not on exhibition. It is one of the latest cherries. The last season the fruit sustained its previous high reputation. Mr. Lewelling and Mr. Walling are propagating these valuable cherries, and they will have full supplies of the trees for sale the coming fall. Mr. Walling says he has only been able to bud 1,000 with his new variety the present season, and half of them are already sold. No person planting out young trees should fail to procure trees of the varieties of which we have herein spoken. It is a great triumph in the East when a seedling is obtained deemed worthy of cultivation. Here in Oregon we can raise seedling cherries which throw most of the old varieties into the shade.

Entertainment.—The concert and exhibition given by the pupils of the Academy at Masonic Hall last night, was attended by a goodly number of persons, and was undoubtedly well appreciated. The singing was in many instances very good. While the declamations and recitations were in some cases admirable, in others the pieces were not well selected, and did not seem to be fully understood by the pupils who recited them. Any person, by the recitation properly must understand and appreciate the sense. The instrumental music was good, and was furnished from a fine piano, at which presided Mrs. H. Y. Thompson, who pleased the audience by the manner in which she led the little singers through their pieces. The instrumental duet, however, in which Mr. Frank Strong played the organ, was certainly a great deal too long for the occasion. It was in fact an unhappy selection, unless the audience had had more time. After the exercises were concluded, the committee chosen awarded the prizes, their decision giving pretty general satisfaction, if, perhaps, we except the girls' "second prize," which many of the audience thought should have been awarded to little Lucy Mason. She certainly displayed a great deal of promise in the manner of reciting a very difficult piece. There was no doubt that we heard of as to the deserts of Miss Griffith, who was given the 1st prize for girls. Miss Nellie Waltz did very well and received the 2d. The 1st prize for boys was awarded to Emory Burke, and the 2d to Herbert Northrup. The singing of two solos, by a son of Prof. Royal, was one of the attractive features of the evening.

Wise Precaution.—A communication was sent yesterday to the County Court by the Common Council of this city. The communication made application to the Court for the rent or purchase of a piece of land included in the Poor House Farm, upon which to erect a suitable pest house or hospital, where persons suffering from contagious diseases can be removed and properly cared for. If the request is granted, it is the intention of the Council to cause to be erected at once, a much larger and more commodious building than the present one. It will be enclosed and every appliance supplied, which can minister to the comfort and care of unfortunate patients who may be stricken down with smallpox or any other infectious disorder. The proposition will undoubtedly meet with the hearty approbation of the Court. The matter has been taken under advisement until to-day. It is the intention of that body to visit the Poor Farm to-day for the purpose of selecting and locating a piece of land suitable for hospital purposes. We learn that the present pest house is very small and illy furnished with the necessary accommodations. No one is to be censured for this, as the Council has done everything in its power to remedy defects, and provide against emergencies, considering the many disadvantages under which they have and are laboring. We hope the request may be granted, and a suitable hospital erected.

Body Found.—The body of the man Thomas Chapman, who committed suicide on Thursday, by leaping overboard from the Stark street ferry boat, was found yesterday afternoon. Several persons had been engaged in dragging the river during the day near the place where the deceased was last seen. About five o'clock something heavy was discovered to be attached to the drag, and on drawing in the line the body was found to have been caught. The Coroner was notified at once. He came over and directed that the body should be taken to the undertakers, where an inquest could be held. This was done, and a jury summoned. After an examination the jury returned the following verdict:

We, the jury summoned to inquire into the cause of the death of Thomas Chapman, whose body now lies before us, and after having heard the testimony introduced, find that he committed suicide by leaping overboard from the ferryboat while laboring under a state of mental aberration.

The remains are now at the undertakers and will be buried to-day.

Soldier Overboard.—One of the soldiers at Vancouver, fell overboard about 2 o'clock on Friday morning, from the wharf, and but for the timely aid of one of the deck hands on board the steamer Vancouver, would have drowned. The deck hand was sleeping by the side of the engines, when he was awakened by a cry which he supposed came from a young seal. He sprang up and ran to the bow of the steamer, from whence the sound proceeded. In the darkness he perceived something struggling in the water by the side of the boat. He reached down, and to his complete surprise, grasped a coat collar, and lifted the soldier—for such he was—on deck. To the question of how he came to fall overboard, the soldier replied that he "did not like to tell that part of the story." He acted so very strangely that the other party thought him either insane or intoxicated. After some persuasion on the part of the person who rescued him, the soldier was induced to return to his quarters, a wetter and wiser man.

The Masonic Banquet.—At the grand and sumptuous banquet given by the ladies of Electa Chapter No. 3, of the Order of the Eastern Star, after the close of the supper, some interesting and entertaining exercises took place, which, owing to the lateness of the hour, prevented a notice in our issue of yesterday morning. Prominent among the exercises was the solo singing by Miss Cardinell. She sang once, was most vociferously encored and compelled to sing another piece before the audience would be satisfied. Miss Cardinell's voice is considerably above medium. At first it strikes the ear a little strangely—in fact, quite masculine, but her voice, while it is best suited to contralto, is quite rich and flexible. In some portions of its compass, there seems to exist a want of melody, but that defect, if such it can be called, is abundantly compensated for in others. She can be pronounced one of the finest female singers of the city. After the singing the tables and chairs were cleared away and a social dance was indulged in to a late hour.

Rehearsal.—A number of vocal and instrumental musicians met last evening at Philharmonic Hall, for the Jubilee rehearsal. Prof. Wyatt held the baton, and Dr. Hatch presided at the piano. The sterling old National anthems, "Star Spangled Banner," "America" and "Red, White and Blue," were gone through with in a very spirited manner. The attendance was very fair, and these hymns of the Nation was rendered in most excellent style, but we feel warranted in the assertion, that all the musicians of the city were not present. There will probably be one more rehearsal before the Fourth, and let every one who can sing at all attend. Let there be one hundred voices at least in the grand chorus.

The Manufacture of Friction Matches.—Every establishment, however small, carried on in Oregon, having in view the supply of a home-manufactured article to consumers in place of using that from other States or abroad, helps to make money more plentiful in the State. William Bond & Co. (successors to Graham & Co.) manufacture in this city the Anchor Friction Match, which, from late improvements, is a superior article. We do not need any more matches made in California. Let every one encourage this establishment and other industries tending to keep the money at home.

Stockholders' Meeting.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Good Templars' Hall Association was held yesterday at 1 o'clock P. M. It was resolved to proceed with the erection of the building at once. The ground for the site will be cleared soon, and excavation commenced. The plans and specifications are being prepared by W. W. Piper, and will be completed to-day. The Building Committee will soon advertise for proposals in accordance with the plans submitted. From present appearances, it is confidently expected to begin the work in earnest about the second week in next month.

"Hoodlum" Parade.—The prospects for a burlesque parade to take place on the Fourth, after the regular and legitimate exercises of the day are concluded, are quite flattering. We learn that quite a number have already signified their intention to take part in the farce. The procession will form and parade through the streets to the infinite merriment of the crowd.

Boy Firemen.—Engine Company No. 4, of the Vancouver Fire Department, intend to parade in this city on next Thursday. This company is composed of small boys, ranging in age from ten to twelve years. They will be dressed in uniform and will bring along a small hand engine which belongs to this juvenile company of the "hose and brakes." It will be one of the interesting features of the procession.

Bonds Filled.—J. M. Caywood, Sheriff elect, filed his bonds and took the oath of office yesterday. His bonds were $10,000, and his bondsmen are A. P. Ankeny, John C. Carson and D. S. Stimpson. Mr. W. H. Harris also filed his bond ($10,000) and took the oath of office yesterday. In both instances, the sureties offered were deemed satisfactory and accepted.

County Taxes.—The amount of taxes placed in the hands of the Sheriff for collection, as indicated by the original tax roll was:

Original tax roll	$139,538 30
Amount collected	129,155 80
Actually delinquent	382 50

This is the closest collection made by any former Sheriff of this county.

Accepted.—In the Clerk's office, yesterday, Levi Anderson, Justice of the Peace for Couch's Precinct, filed his bond. The bond was $1,000, and the sureties, S. L. Potter and John Donnovan. Rev. T. L. Eliot, School Superintendent elect, filed his notice and oath of office, no bond being required.

Street Drill.—The Montgomery Guard held a street drill last evening. This Company, under the experienced command of Capt. McGrath, is making very creditable proficiency in the manual of arms and the various military evolutions.

Elected.—At a meeting held last Monday evening, of Minerva Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 19, the following officers were elected: A. Bartsch, N. G.; J. Fred Miller, V. G.; Wm. Pfunderplit, R. S.; Conrad Meier, Treas.; John Klosterman, P. S.

Falling.—The river fell last night at Vancouver about two inches. It is constantly but slowly falling at this place. The water has, without doubt, reached its maximum hight this season.

Gone South.—U. S. Marshal T. G. Young went South yesterday on official business connected with his office. He will proceed as far south as Oakland, and will be absent about one week.

Convenes.—The Circuit Court will convene on Monday morning. The U. S. District Court will convene this morning, in which the case of McCuen et al vs. ship A. M. Small will be heard.

Disposed.—Judge Denny disposed of one case of assault and battery and one of committing a nuisance, yesterday. A case of each of the above offenses was postponed until this morning.

Invitation Declined.—The City Council of Oregon City have declined the invitation to participate in the exercises of the coming Fourth, as tendered by the Committee.

Reports.—The Sheriff has filed his annual report in the County Clerk's office. The annual report of the County Clerk is being prepared, and will be filed next week.

Salutes.—The Portland Light Battery will fire the salutes in honor of the National Anniversary on next Thursday.

The seats of the church are always free, and an invitation is extended to strangers and the public. At 10 o'clock, an hour before the morning service, there will be a service for baptism of children.

Until further notice the afternoon services of St. Stephens Chapel will be held at 5 o'clock, instead of 4 o'clock as heretofore.

The Excursion.—To-morrow the public will bear in mind the proposed excursion to be given by Messrs. Dexter & Holton. The E. N. Cooke has been chartered for the occasion and good music provided. The boat will go up to the Wallamet Falls, remain some time and return to the city in the evening.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement, in another column, of the United States Watch Company. Many are the certificates from leading men in this country as to the perfection of the watches bearing the name, "United States Watch Company," but the most astonishing one is from the Hon. L. E. Crittenden, late Register of the United States Treasury, in which he states that "Watch bearing trade mark Frederick Atherton & Co., N. J., manufactured by United States Watch Company, carried by him from December, 1868, to January 17, 1870, had a total variation of only two seconds in the entire time." This is perfection, and is, without doubt, the very acme of mechanical skill. In addition to the many honors already received by this house, we will add that the Marion United States Watch Company's watches (Giles, Wales & Co.) were awarded the First Premiums at "Fair of American Institute," New York, 1870, at Fair of "Ohio Mechanics' Institute," "Cincinnati Industrial Exposition," Cincinnati, 1870, at "Louisiana State Fair," New Orleans, La., 1870, at "Texas State Fair," Houston, Texas, 1871, at International Industrial Exhibition, Buffalo, 1871, and at every Fair where they have been exhibited, over all competitors. It is well deserved, and we wish them every and a long-continued success.

Persons desirous of purchasing some very desirable real estate, are invited to attend the auction sale this morning at Richardson's Sales Room. See his advertisement.

It is pretty well understood that Judge Wilson has been elected to Congress. In the fall the attention of everybody will be taken up with the National election. But notwithstanding these exciting events Jos. Kohn & Co., 91 Front street, are doing a lively trade at their clothing house. The reason of this is that they offer such liberal inducements to those who favor them with a call.

Best and Oldest Family Medicine.—Sanford's Liver Invigorator.—A purely vegetable Cathartic and Tonic—for Dyspepsia, Constipation, Debility, Sick-headache, Bilious attacks, and all derangements of Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Ask your Druggist for it. Beware of imitations. [illegible]

Our Tailors.—Although there are a very large number of merchant tailoring establishments in this city, some of them not excelled in the State, there is not one of them at which a gentleman can be more thoroughly dressed than at that of J. O'Neil & Co., 95 First street. They have competent fitters and cutters who will do justice to work extended to them. If you want a neat fitting suit, and furnishing goods to make the whole "rig" complete go to this house.

The Reason Why.—It is always a pleasure to deal with an individual or a firm when one knows that the managers and their entire corps of assistants endeavor to please their customers. The firm that carries out this idea of management is popular, and that firm is Fishel & Roberts, corner of Washington and First streets. The new Cutter they have employed has given so much satisfaction that the business has increased wonderfully. One may feel at ease while purchasing anything at this house. They are introducing new goods by every steamer.

Bran New Out.—Persons living in the southern end of the city have doubtless observed an innovation at 141 First street, between Yamhill and Taylor. This change has been made by Gaston, the well known dealer in Fish, Game and Poultry, who opened this stand as a branch establishment, where at all times a full supply of everything in his particular line can be found. At the old stand, Washington street, between First and Second, the usual supply of Fish, Game and Poultry can be had at any time. Orders left at either place will be promptly filled.

DUTCHER'S LIGHTNING FLY KILLER Sweeps them off and clears the house speedily—Try it—Sold by dealers everywhere.

For Coughs, Colds and Throat Disorders, use Brown's Bronchial Troches, having proved their efficacy by a test of many years.

The Umatilla House at The Dalles is now completed and furnished in every respect unsurpassed. The office is the most cheerful and pleasant in the State, and the dining hall is not [illegible]. The rooms are all newly furnished. The house has twelve suites of rooms with stoves in them for families. The new house stands much higher than the old one. The ceilings are four feet higher, which adds greatly to the healthiness of the rooms. The table is kept in a style to correspond with the appointments.

Lost Health Regained.

Self-abuse lays the foundation of many a bodily suffering. [illegible] The consequence of this is that thousands fall by the wayside, in the prime of life, every year, who might have lived to a ripe, hearty old age, if they had resorted to the proper means of recruiting their failing vigor at the proper time.

Seeing what that famous vitalizing and invigorating elixir, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has done for countless multitudes of the enervated and broken down, and with the living unbroken record of its cures before him, it seems amazing that any sufferer from premature decay, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, biliousness, chronic constipation, or diseases of a remittent or intermittent character, should delay, even for an hour, to seek the aid which its toning, regulating and invigorating properties have never failed to afford.

It is no exaggeration to say that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most faithful ally of nature in her struggle with weakness and disease, that medical botany and honest chemistry have yet given to the world.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

PROSPECTUS.

THE THROUGH LINE!

A RAILROAD JOURNAL, TO BE PUBLISHED weekly, in the city of Portland, Oregon, devoted to the interests of railroads and kindred subjects, and especially to the success of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad.

In the interest of this road we have already made one campaign, wherein, against great odds, our efforts have been crowned with a fair measure of success. It is now a fixed fact, recognized by the Government, and becoming attractive to moneyed capital and influence.

With the issuance of this prospectus we enter upon a second campaign, in which the friends of the great work will find it profitable to be united, firm and persistent.

We shall early discuss the subject of legitimate and reasonable State aid in the prosecution of the work, and as an endorsement of the importance of this deservedly popular enterprise.

Preparatory to a renewal of our efforts at the next session of Congress, we shall fully discuss the national and local importance of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, and through the instrumentality of The Through Line familiarize members of Congress and the American public with the subject in all its bearings. The discussion will cover the whole ground, and no fact or matter which may be deemed of importance will be allowed to pass unnoticed.

The successful completion of the railroads embraced in the system of the Pacific Northwest, we shall give our hearty support in all that is fair and just, and especially shall we endeavor to keep alive and make useful that public sentiment in Oregon everywhere manifested in behalf of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad.

Our knowledge of the several roads embraced in this system, their origin and progress, the various laws that have been passed concerning them, and the country through which they pass, will enable us to give, from time to time, to the American and European reader reliable and important information connected therewith.

Our friends should be especially vigilant in getting subscribers and giving The Through Line a wide circulation. We have made arrangements for its publication, and shall employ a competent assistant in the Editorial Department. It will be a twenty column paper, and the first number will be issued on or about the 20th of June, inst. Subscription $2 50 per annum.

Grant Against Greeley.

STRIKING LETTER OF A VIRGINIA CONSERVATIVE.

RICHMOND, June 6, 1872.

To the Editor of the [illegible]:

Allow me, once for all, to reply through your paper to the numerous letters received, inquiring whether or not it is true, as reported in various papers, that it is my intention to advocate the re-election of General Grant, and if so, upon what grounds.

It is my intention to advocate the re-election of General Grant, and on the following grounds:

The Cincinnati Convention was, in my humble opinion, the mere development of personal antipathies, party disintegration, popular upheavings and casual combinations, with but one object in view, which was rather the result of personal prejudices, attributable to local antecedents, than it was the result of a calm and grave purpose of restoring the balances of the Constitution. Among its members there were no common ties, no well-defined sympathies, no ascertained or ascertainable policy, either as to State or Federal action. It met without authority, acted without discretion, and resolved without deliberation. Its sole purpose was to defeat the present incumbent, through the discordant and antagonizing bundle of Whigs, Democrats, Republicans, Radicals and Communists. Indeed it is even now impossible for the most experienced statesman to discover the position, anticipate the action or define the policy of the Convention itself, or any one or more of its various members, except the common purpose of ousting the present incumbent. In it were blended all parties, without uniting any two. It sought to amalgamate all interests, without securing proper guarantees for any one. It crystalized all conceivable vagaries, without harmonizing a single ingredient. From such an uncommon and unauthorized combination resulted the nomination of Mr. Greeley.

It becomes the people of Virginia to consider well the claims which Mr. Greeley has or can assert to their support. The nomination by such a Convention needs an indorsement to be derived from and sustained by the antecedent acts of the nominee.

Mr. Gilmer, after reviewing Mr. Greeley's expressions in favor of secession, and his subsequent denial of them, and declaring that his bailing of Mr. Davis was only fair since he "urged Mr. Davis and his Southern friends to secede," goes on to say:

One word as to the Baltimore Convention, which is to assemble on the 9th July. The Conservative press of Virginia are nearly a unit in urging the election of Mr. Greeley; some few await, with trembling solicitude, the action of the Baltimore Convention. With the result of that Convention I have nothing to do, nor do I await its action with the slightest anxiety. I will say, however, if that Convention accepts the result of the Cincinnati Convention, it will, by the act, wipe out the record of their past history, and place their party in the unenviable attitude of party vagrants—covertly seeking the protection of bitterest enemies—and will forever bury the principles on which their great leaders, in the past, have so long and bravely maintained their creed, developed their policy and honored their party. What! the Democratic party, as a party, to nominate Horace Greeley? To do so would for all time fix the sting of disability in their future action, and forever extinguish the light of truth on their past history, as it would cover the tombs of their great dead with the sad drapery of a nation's curse. But as to this, mournful as it may be, I am merely a passive looker-on. I may, however, be allowed to express the hope, with becoming modesty, that neither the manhood, the tried courage, the deep convictions, and the cherished principles of the Democratic party will be purchased, the consideration being a "mess of pottage," so distastefully served up, in the "flesh-pots of Egypt."

A few closing words as to the grounds on which I shall advocate the re-election of Gen. Grant. In the immediate future there are, in my opinion, severe trials, in Federal, State, interstate and international affairs, which will need in the Executive of the Federal Government a man endowed with high national courage, a stubborn will, iron nerves and recognized bravery; one who will be firmer as danger thickens around us, sterner as fresh troubles gather around us; one who obeys the laws, as regularly passed, because he recognizes the majesty of the people, and scorns to seek popularity by catering to the popular prejudices of the hour, and is too resolute to waver even under the bitter personal denunciations of many of the ablest leaders of his own party. I believe Gen. Grant to be such a man, and as such I shall support him.

In doing so I by no means wish to be understood as indorsing many of the acts of his past Administration, nor indeed shall I do so. It is to be hoped that the supporters of Mr. Greeley will be equally as frank.

I am aware of the censures to which I will be subjected. I count them as nothing. I shall meet them with courtesy and repel them with manly firmness. They cannot be more severe than those heaped on me when, in 1860-'67, I denied the right and denounced the mad policy of secession, which, at that time, Mr. Greeley so warmly advocated and sanctimoniously pressed upon the American people.

Respectfully, JOHN H. GILMER.

The War Upon the Jesuits.

The movement against the Jesuits in Germany is assuming formidable proportions. The press teems with articles attacking or defending the famous society, and petitions both for and against their banishment are pouring into the Imperial Parliament. Both those who assail and those who defend them do it in the name of religious freedom, and each have strong arguments to offer. Those who urge the suppression of the society in Germany, point out that it has everywhere been hostile to religious freedom and, therefore, has no right to claim in its own defence the benefit of a principle which it denounces as a dangerous heresy. On the other hand, the defenders of the society urge that the State has no right to discriminate against one corporation more than another, and that to do so is contrary to the spirit of the age. Among the most strenuous assailants of the Jesuits are prominent Catholics whose fidelity to their church cannot be questioned. Nowhere is the feeling against them so bitter as in Catholic Bavaria. Prince Hohenlohe, whose brother is a Cardinal, points out the dangers for the State originating from the Papal syllabus and the new-fangled dogmas, and demands a law against the establishment of Jesuits and similar congregations, and against their exercise of ecclesiastical functions and their meddling with education. The bishops, in obedience to orders from Rome, sustain the Jesuits by all means in their power, but some of the bishops themselves are in a critical position as respects the Government. Bismarck is determined that they shall not excommunicate the Old Catholics with impunity, and has announced that if they do so they will forfeit their salaries and cease to be recognized by the State. Perhaps the solution of the question will be the establishment of "a free Church in a free State" as in Italy, though this is a policy to which the Emperor is decidedly averse.

Meanwhile the Old Catholic movement makes much quiet progress and some of its adherents have lately taken steps which may result in serious consequences. As the Old Catholics both in Germany and Austria declare they do not intend to break with the Church and firmly hold to the necessity of an episcopate, they are placed in an awkward position. The bishops will not recognize them, and refuse to perform for them those religious acts which are the prerogatives of the episcopate. They will not administer the sacrament of confirmation in the Old Catholic congregations, nor will they, of course, ordain to the priesthood young men imbued with opinions they consider heretical. As by the Catholic theory there can be no Church without a bishop, it would naturally follow that in the course of years the Old Catholics must be left without a ministry, or else be compelled to resort to some irregular and, from their point of view, illegal method of supplying one. Fortunately they are [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Old Catholic [illegible] church which has been cruelly persecuted and almost destroyed by the Jesuits. This community has been so reduced in numbers that, until recent events had attracted attention to it, it was but little known. In spite of persecution it has retained its episcopate and has to-day three bishops the validity of whose consecration cannot be questioned. Though excommunicated by the Popes, they have nevertheless always protested that they belonged to the Church, and have always found sympathy among the more liberal members of the Church of Rome. It is to this small Church in Holland that the Old Catholics of Germany have now turned for the assistance they need. Its bishops have been invited to proceed to Germany and visit the Old Catholic congregations, and perform the functions which appertain only to the episcopate. It is even proposed that they shall consecrate bishops to supply the places of those who refuse to recognize the congregations which reject the decrees of the Vatican Council. By this means the Old Catholics can perpetuate their ministry and establish a Church which will have the essentials they consider requisite. It may be that this small remnant of the national Church which the Jesuits treated so cruelly, but failed to obliterate, is called to play an important part in the religious history of Germany, and has been preserved for that purpose. It is even attracting attention in France, where it has always had sympathizers among the Gallican clergy, and has been made the subject of an interesting article in the Revue des Deux Mondes. It is certain that its existence to-day, after so many years of persecution, is the cause of serious anxiety to the ultramontane faction which has gained control of the Pope and which achieved such an apparent triumph by the proclamation of the dogma of infallibility.

Exercise for the State Officers

From the Salem Statesman.

We recollect very well that a couple of years ago the Democracy were making a great noise about warrants being drawn against funds where no appropriations had yet been made. They declared it unlawful. Members of the Legislature so pronounced it; a State Judge (Democratic) so pronounced it, and the Smelling Commission (which is now the worst smelling thing in the State) so pronounced it. The pronouncement was unanimous, and the howl over it was one grand chorus. Matters are not now, though, as they used to was. Democrats are in the State offices, provided with blank warrants which are useless things unless filled up and signatured. Democrats are in the Penitentiary business; also in the business of pap-sucking, generally, and what to them is a blank warrant?

These various facts and considerations have had a powerful two-fold effect upon the Democratic mind—leastwise those minds which are engaged upon State business, Penitentiary business and pap-sucking business. They now see that drawing warrants is just as easy where there is no appropriation as where is one, and that it is altogether a harmless sort of amusement, in which the drawer may indulge without loss or expense to himself, and the drawee, with much profit. Accordingly the warrant-drawing business has been rather the most brisk feature in financial affairs, at the seat of Government, for several months. It is stated confidently, and we believe it to be true, that the Penitentiary appropriations have been very largely overdrawn. Nearly, if not all, the overdrawn warrants, bear date anterior to the election. A Democratic majority in the Legislature would have made everything lovely, of course, and, of course a Democratic majority was just what the State officers confidently expected while such warrants were being filled up with words and figures and signatures. The majority in the Legislature, however, is decidedly not Democratic. There will surely be an investigation of the matter (Tom Patton will probably be at the head of the new Smelling Committee,) and State officers just now, even as the Dog Days are coming on, will have to remain away from the sea-side, and take exercise in the matter of fixing things up. The Democratic situation, as relates to State officers, is not as lovely as regaling upon ice cream; but rather suggestive of cholera morbus and cramps.

The Greeley-Howlers.

[From the Chicago Times.]

Who are the Greeley-howlers? Montgomery Blair, of the Blair family. Frank Blair, of the Blair family. The rest of the Blair family. Bill Tweed, of the Tammany family. The rest of the Tammany family. Ben Wood, of the Wood family. The rest of the Wood family. Jeff. Davis, of the Jeff. Davis family. The rest of the Jeff. Davis family. Geo. Blatherskite Shutt, of the State-house family. The rest of the State-house family, (excepting those that are howling for the other Radical). And so on, ad nauseam. Wherever one finds a professional office-hunter; a political scalawag, ready to sell the interests of the people for a mess of political pottage; a political dead-beat or a political thief, there one finds a fellow who assumes to be the owner of a political party, and who is trying to bully its members into the support of one or the other of the two Radical scalawags that are aiming for the first office in the republic. It is the essence of radicalism that its chief purpose is plunder. Gratz Brown described the nature of Greeley and the Greeleyites with wonderful precision when he denounced them as the supporters of the most stupendous system of plunder on the face of the earth. That was a few weeks before the stampede at Cincinnati. Now, Gratz Brown is a Greeley-howler. His initiation as a member of the tribe of plunderers he so vigorously and justly excoriated, was a feature in the ritual of that midnight conclave in which Reuben E. Fenton and Frank Blair participated as high priests of the higher political morality!

ANCESTORS OF DANIEL WEBSTER.—On his paternal side, as is given in full in his Life, by Curtis, he came from the Websters of Hampton, among the earliest settlers of that town. Of his maternal ancestry less is said. We are told that his mother's maiden name was Abigail Eastman, a tailoress, of Salisbury. But whence came she? The late Dr. Nye of Salisbury, was much interested in the history of that town, and has left papers detailing the genealogy of some of the families from one of which papers we quote: "A Miss Eastman, a young lady of Welsh descent living in Salisbury, was courted, and had a natural son by a mulatto man, who ran off, or died, before the birth of her child, who bore the name of his mother. The boy grew up to manhood, and married a half Indian girl, whose father was a white man, and reared up a family of Eastmans, from whom Miss Abigail Eastman, the mother of Daniel and Ezekiel Webster, and all the Eastmans of Salisbury had their origin. It was very common in the early settlement of Salisbury and Amesbury, for the inhabitants to marry Indian girls. The characteristics are very visible to this day among their descendants." We supply this omission to keep history good. It is in favor of miscegenation more than any other fact within our knowledge. Dr. Nye will be remembered by some of the elder people, and nobody will doubt his authority which, possibly, even now would be capable of proof from the old records. It will account for the complexion of Dan'l [illegible].

SOMETHING FOR WAKEFULNESS.—We are often asked, says the [illegible], for a prescription for [illegible] naturally wakeful persons. The [illegible] principle of which many of our business men work their brains and abuse their bodies, begets an irritable condition of the nerves, and a morbid state of mind, very unfavorable to quiet and refreshing sleep. Such persons will often go to bed weary and exhausted, but cannot sleep, or sleep dreamily and fitfully, or lie awake for hours, unable to sleep at all. We have tried many expedients to induce sleep with more or less success, and have read many recipes which proved better in theory than in practice. The very best method we have yet discovered is that of counting. Breathe deeply and slowly, without any straining effort, and, with every expiration, count one, two, three, etc., up to a hundred. Some persons will be asleep before they can count fifty in this manner. Others will count twenty, or thirty, and then forget themselves and cease counting. In such cases always commence again at one. Very few persons [illegible] [illegible]

A TRUE WIFE.—Daniel Webster once said: "There is nothing upon this earth that can compare with the faithful attachment of a wife, no creature who, for the object of her love, is so indomitable, so persevering, so ready to suffer and die. Under the most depressing circumstances, woman's weakness becomes a mighty power, her timidity becomes fearless courage, all her shrinking and sinking passes away, and her spirit acquires the firmness of marble—adamantine firmness—when circumstances drive her to put forth all her energies under the inspiration of her affection. It is the babbling stream which flows gently, the little rivulet which runs along day and night by the farmhouse, that is useful, rather than the swollen flood or warring cataract. Niagara excites our wonder, and we stand amazed at the power and greatness of God there, as it pours from the hollow of His hand. But one Niagara is enough for a continent or the world, while the same world requires thousands and ten thousands of silver fountains and flowing rivulets, that water every farm and meadow and garden, and that shall flow on every day and night with their gentle quiet beauty. So with the acts of our lives. It is not by great deeds, like the martyrs, that good is to be done, but the daily and quiet virtue of our life, the Christian's temper, the good qualities of relatives and friends.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

FRIDAY EVENING, June 28, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 113¾.

The steamer Geo. S. Wright from Victoria and Port Townsend arrived this morning. She brings a cargo of a large invoice of Sugar in bond.

News from the steamer California states that the damage she received on the rocks is much less than was expected. She is on the beach at Nanaimo, and will be repaired without difficulty. Her cargo was much damaged. Soldiers and freight on board the California were transferred to the Elsie. This steamer proceeded to Sitka in place of the California.

By the recent strike in the Sugar refineries of the East an advance of 1½ to 2 cents per pound has been caused in the price of all grades of refined Sugars in the Eastern markets. This fact has been passed over in San Francisco as lightly as possible, because the refineries of that city are under heavy obligations not to raise the price of Sugar till about the middle of July, and the object is to prevent interior merchants and the people generally from laying in supplies before the price can be raised. This is a statement of a San Francisco paper.

The rain which commenced falling on Thursday night comes too late to be of much benefit to grain in the southern part of the State, but it will augment the yield immensely in Wallamet valley. Many fields which were expected to yield nothing will now give good crops. In all parts of the State the rain will greatly benefit the vegetable crop. The value of this fall of rain at such a time is inestimable.

Latest advices from Yokohama state that new crop Teas were on the market two weeks earlier than last year and prices were $10 per picul higher than last year's opening rates.

Cheese, cured meats, etc., continue to come from the East over the Pacific Railroad in large volume. On Eastern Cheese there is no profit in San Francisco, as the California article sells at 12@14c. Eastern sugar cured hams have been sold in San Francisco by the invoice at 12½c, Lard at 10c, and dry salted meats at 9c. Of Butter, the California supply is ample. Quotations for choice fresh roll are 25@27½c per lb.

The following from the London Economist, of June 1st, will throw light on recent financial operations, including the drain of gold to Europe and the advance in gold premium here:

"The Bank of England have wisely reduced their rate of discount from 5 to 4 per cent., and indeed the rate of discount before them they had greatly too cheap. The rise to 5 per cent. had done its work. As we are informed, by far the greater part of the gold which has come from America would not have come if the Bank rate had remained at 4 per cent. It would not have paid to bring it at any rate, if [illegible] circumstances exceptionally favorable. Practically the gold which has come from America has enabled the Bank now to reduce its rates, and therefore it is strictly true to say that the present possibility and expediency of that reduction are only the consequences of the previous rise, and that if that rise had not been made, that gold would not have come.

"Even though it had come, the Bank of England would not have been able to reduce its rate of discount if the German Government had continued to take all the gold which came upon the market. For the present they seem to have suspended their operations; they took a great deal very rapidly, and most likely it is sufficient for their present foreign operations. But we know of nothing to indicate that the German Government has changed its policy; and probably the German Government will soon again begin to take the gold which comes to this market in the same manner and with the same effect as it has hitherto done."

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President:
ULYSSES S. GRANT,
Of Illinois.

For Vice President:
HENRY WILSON,
Of Massachusetts.

For Presidential Electors,
W. D. HARE, of Washington.
J. F. [illegible], of [illegible].
A. B. MEACHAM, of [illegible].

Election Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1872.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

[illegible]

1. The Republican Party of the United States [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

2. During eleven years of its [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured those amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a life tenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of the public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free homes for the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current expenditures, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. [illegible] [illegible]

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance—"once a subject always a subject," having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Governments, and we urge continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way prepared for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an imperative duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption of specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their admission to wider fields of usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party propose to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and to the Federal government. It disapproves of the resort to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day upon a new march to victory.
